SCHOOLS OPENED

The First Day's Attendance Was Quite Large

ENROLLMENT BY BUILDINGS AS REPORTED.

Though Three Teachers Were Sick and One Absent, the Schools Started Off Well.

THE ROOMS OPENED WITH AVERAGE OF 40 SCHOLARS.

Yesterday morning the public schools of the city started off their fall and winter term and had a good attendance, the total number of scholars entering for the course being 2,772, of which 2,045 were white and 727 colored. This is considered a fairly good start, and to this total number of pupils there will be considerable of an addition in the next few days as all the children do not get entered the opening day.

The reports of the principals to Superintendent Lieb showed that the following number of scholars were at tending each building: McKinley, 151; Franklin, 320; Lee, 297; Longfellow, 224; Jefferson, 344; Washington, 709; Lincoln, 356, and Garfield, 361. This shows that the smallest attendance is at the new McKinley building of Mechanicsburg. This structure was all right yesterday for the little ones to enter their studies inside thereof, and what little work there remains yet for the carpenters to complete the place can be done after school hours and the little ones relieved of being disturbed as they would if the finishing touches were put on during study hours.

Absent Teachers.

Miss Margaret Acker was sick and unable to be at her room. Others at that building placed the children, issued their entrance cards and attended to everything, therefore no substitute was necessary. If she is not able to take to her duties today someone else will be placed temporarily in charge.

Miss Blanche Ingram, the substitute, took charge yesterday of the room of Miss Aubrey Taylor, at the McKinley building, on account of the sickness of the latter.

Miss Emma Morgan, the English teacher at the high school, took Prof. Sugg's room at the Franklin building, to remain in charge until the latter returns from Madisonville, where he is convalescing from his recent attack of illness. No English will be taught this week.

Miss Emma Acker has not yet returned from the Portland, Oregon, exposition, but as her work is departmental work, it can be divided between the other department instructors until she gets here. She is expected today or tomorrow.

Miss Edna Barnett, the sixth grade teacher at the Washington building, has arrived from Arkansas, but the state quarantine held her back several days, so she did not get here in time to take the examinations each instructor has to undergo before they are permitted to take a place in the schools. She goes through these examinations today, and if her percentage shows she is qualified for the place, she takes charge of the room. Outside of the above teachers every other one was in her or his respective place and started things off all right.

The Start Off.

Yesterday morning the pupils all assembled at their respective buildings at 8:30 o'clock and after being entered, were dismissed about 10 o'clock so they could come down into the city and purchase the books they needed. Needless to state the book dealers did a land-office business, as large crowds remained in the establishments until last night buying the books.

In the afternoon the children came to school again, but remained only an hour or two, during which time their studies were laid out for them today. They were dismissed this time until this morning when they return at the usual opening hour, take to their studies and remain until the regular closing time. All the little ones seem to be entering upon their coming work with enthusiasm and eagerness and prospects are for a very fruitful scholastic year.

Average Attendance.

Superintendent Lieb yesterday after the different building reports were made to him, showing how many children had entered school, computed the figures and found that there was an average of 40 scholars to each room. Of course there are many more in some rooms and some less in others, but the average was that figure. Where there are rooms crowded they will be taken from and scholars placed elsewhere if possible, while those not having enough will be rearranged in the same manner.

NATIVE OF JEFFERSONVILLE.

W. M. Bowman, of Eddyville, Dies of Heart Failure.

Kuttawa, Ky., Sept. 11.—William Milton Bowman, of the firm of Bowman & Catlett, of Eddyville, Ky., died early yesterday of heart failure. He had been in failing health for several months and had spent several days at Dawson Springs a few weeks ago.

Mr. Bowman was born in Jeffersonville, Ind., February 7, 1831. He was the son of Hanson Bowman and Mary Ann Applegate Bowman, both of whom died when he was very small. After the death of his parents he made his home with his grandfather, Aaron Applegate, until he reached manhood. He engaged in merchandising with James Lester in 1855, and through all the intervening years he has pursued that avocation.

Mr. Bowman's great aunt, Betsy Ross, made the first American flag.

KILLS EYES WITH PEPPER

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 11.—In an attempt to commit suicide, Miss Jessie Lum of Morrison filled her eyes with cayenne pepper and turned on the gas in her bedroom. When rescued the pepper had blinded her for life and she was declared insane.

SOUTHERN WOMEN SHOW OF HORSES

COMMITTEE SHORTLY TAKES UP MONUMENT QUESTION.

Structure Will Be Very Handsome and Perpetuate Memory of the Noble Women.

Dr. D. G. Murrell is preparing to call a meeting sometime this week of the committee that has in charge the question of raising funds for erection of the Carnegie library lawn of this handsome stone monument that is to be put up in memory of the loyalty of the women of this city to the Southern cause during the Civil war. The physician is the chairman of the committee that was selected some weeks ago, but all the members have been so busy with different private matters that they have not had time to hold a meeting before now, and thoroughly outline their work which will be pushed off to the successful culmination that will cap their efforts, judging from the encouragement and support being lent from all sides, not only with individual efforts, but monetary subscriptions. Many have already asked permission to subscribe funds to the amount to be raised, but all are being held off until the committee begins going around after the donations, actively.

The project is being advanced by the James T. Walbert camp of Confederate veterans of this city and their idea is to erect about a $3,000 monument that will be a credit to the town in addition to memory of the true and loyal Southern women who unflinchingly faced everything for the cause during the trying conflict.

Mr. Murrell will decide in a day or two just when he will call the committee together and outline their work.

MINISTER REMAINS.

Rev. Rogers Clark Will Continue His Pastorship at Mayfield.

Sunday at Mayfield Rev. Rogers Clark, of the Christian church there, withdrew his resignation, which he had tendered with the object of moving to Salt Lake City, Utah, and accepting a call to take charge of a large church there. The congregation at Mayfield made such urgency pressure to bear upon him, that the reverend gentleman withdrew his resignation and announced from his pulpit Sunday that he would remain at the capital of Graves county.

He is one of the most able, learned and hardest workers in this part for the good cause, and his determination to remain is the source of much joy for the Mayfield people. Since he took charge of the church there three years ago there have been 250 additions made to the membership roll.

DEAL CONFIRMED APPROVES REPORT

LEASE OF T. C. TO THE I. C. DECLARED A CERTAIN GO.

Announced in New York and Corroborated by Those High in Authority of Road.

New York, Sept. 11.—The Tennessee Central Railroad company is about to be leased to the Illinois Central and the Southern, says the Commercial this morning. The deal is to become effective within three months, the line to be divided between the two systems named, thus affording each of them an entrance into Nashville, Tenn. The plan provides that the Nashville Terminal company, which has been a separate organization under the parent company, is to be the joint property of the Southern and the Illinois Central. The organization of the Nashville Terminal company will be continued, however, and the two roads will jointly use and operate the terminals.

The Illinois Central gets only that portion of the road between Nashville and Hopkinsville, Ky., 85.4 miles and its portion of the tracks of the Nashville Terminal. The Southern is to get all the eastern division of the main line from Nashville to Harrison Junction, 165.8 miles, and the forty-seven miles of branch lines as well as its portion of the terminals in Nashville. President Stuyvesant Fish, of the Illinois Central, is not in town, but an official of the company confirmed the above statements in every particular, but asked that his name be not mentioned.

MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT TO TALK OVER MATTER.

Committeemen Chairmen Meet Today, While the Ladies Hold Separate Session.

The promoters of the horse show this is to be given next month held a meeting last evening at the parlors of The Palmer, and remained there in conference for an hour or two talking over things in general and getting their preparations outlined for the attraction that promises to be one of the most successful attractions ever given in this city for years gone by. A number of ladies met with the gentlemen and their deep interest and good suggestions show they are entering the project with enthusiasm and intend doing everything possible to make it a howling success like results from all the things they bend their utmost efforts towards.

Much was done during the meeting towards the end desired, and on adjournment it was decided to have a session this afternoon or tonight of the chairmen of the respective committees that have charge of arrangements. Today each of these will be notified whether the meeting will be held in the afternoon or evening. Mrs. James Rudy, chairman of the ladies committee, will call that body together some evening or afternoon this week and they outline and discuss the part they are to take in the promotion. They hold their gathering by themselves, and then sometime the last of the week another general conference of ladies and gentlemen both will be held to make reports of progress attained.

The show is to be given Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 17, 18 and 19.

PLACES BIG WHEAT ORDERS.

United Kingdom Buys 15,000,000 Bushels From Farmers.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.—A leading miller estimates that California will use 6,000,000 bushels of Washington wheat this year. He also states that orders for approximately 15,000,000 bushels have been received from the United Kingdom. The present harvest in Washington is estimated at 35,000,000 bushels.

LUCK TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 11.—William Van Brimer, an inmate of the Leavenworth Soldiers' Home, a veteran of Company H, Fourth Ohio Infantry, and who recently fell heir to $200,000 by the death of an uncle in Holland, has died suddenly of heart disease in a hotel here.

PRESIDENT PASSES ON PUBLIC PRINTING INVESTIGATION.

Wives of Two Union Officials Found to Be Stockholders in Lanston Company.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 11.—President Roosevelt has made public the report of the Keep commission on its recent investigation of affairs in the government printing office at Washington. The inquiry was made by special direction of the president on account of a protest which he had received from officials of the Mergenthaler Typesetting Machine company against the award of a contract by Public Printer Frank W. Palmer to the Lanston Monotype company for seventy-two machines of its make.

By order of the president the contract with the Lanston company was held up until an investigation could be made with the view of ascertaining whether the charges of favoritism and corruption in the letting of the contract were substantially founded.

As heretofore chronicled the president decided, after an examination of the Keep report, that the contract for the Lanston machines should stand. The Keep commission reported that if the contract could be set aside, "such a course would be desirable," although the commission states expressly that "no corruption payment or promise passed from the Lanston Monotype company to the public printer or to any person in the government service."

It was developed by the investigation, however, that two important assistants of the public printer were indirectly interested in the Lanston company "their wives being stockholders therein." The commission shows that a fair and impartial test of the Lanston and Mergenthaler machines was not made, and reports that the purchase of so large a number of Lanston machines was "imprudent," and indicated "great partiality and bias on the part of the public printer." The commission regards the purchase as "maladministration."

The report of the commission is voluminous, containing about 16,000 words. Accompanying it is a memorandum by President Roosevelt, in which he approves the report, except as to the disposition of the contract for the Lanston machines, which he has directed shall stand.

SHOT IN LEG

JOE MCCLURE PUNCTURED LIMB OF JOHN PICKETT.

Charles Cook Charged With Adultery With Mrs. Maggie Breedlove.

Just because he did not want another dark hued man to talk to his wife, John Pickett, colored, is now languishing in the City Hall bastille, with a hole through his leg to remind him of the remorseance he put in to the attentions of the other to his better half. The man who handled the shooting iron with such accuracy is Joe McClure who is still at large. McClure was standing at Ninth and Washington streets talking to Pickett's wife, when the husband walked up and protested. This brought on words that resulted in McClure pulling his gun and shooting Pickett through the right leg just above the knee. The bullet went all the way through and Pickett was locked up, while McClure skipped out and is still at large. Officers Potter and Goureaux arrested Pickett.

Downfall Of Couple.

Fickleness upon part of the wife, and assiduity with his love-making proclivities has caused Lineman Charles E. Cook of the Cumberland Telephone company, and Mrs. Maggie Breedlove, to fall by the way side, and as result Cook is now in jail. He is charged with adultery.

Sunday night T. W. Breedlove, husband of the woman, and Wm. Mitchell her father, arrived from Louisville and informed Detective Moore and Baker that Cook had eloped with the former's wife, while boarding at their house, and the husband and father traced them to Cincinnati, then here. The detectives found Cook at Eighth and Harrison streets yesterday at work. He then informed the authorities that he sent Mrs. Breedlove home last Sunday, two weeks after they got here, during which time they stopped at the Sebree home on Sixth and Madison streets.

This Couple Colored.

Allie Hodge and Warner Thompson, colored, were arrested last evening by Officers Potter and Goureaux on the charge of adultery.

Fight It Out.

T. M. Hudspeth and Walter Hudspeth, white, were arrested yesterday afternoon of Officers Rogers and Johnson on the charge of threatening the life of John Iseman at the latter's wagon yard on Second and Washington streets. They had gone there for something, and raising a racket, pulled their knives and threatened the other, but no harm was done.

AIRSHIP RACE ENDS IN DRAW

Los Angeles Sees First Contest of the Kind in America.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 11.—The first airship race sailed in America occurred here Monday afternoon when Alva Reynolds' Man Angel No 2 sailed against Wordin Trombly's Bullet. The craft were scheduled to sail over a thirty-mile course and return, but failed to make the return trip, although fulfilling all other conditions as to altitude and maneuvering. The Bullet is an immense machine, seventy-five feet long by fifty-five feet wide, and is propelled in the same manner as the Baldwin-Krabenshue airship and is guided with a rudder. The Man Angel is a tiny craft, one-third of the dimensions of the Bullet. It is propelled by handbars. The Bullet attained an elevation of 9,000 feet and lost its rudder, which interfered with the maneuvers, but the ship sailed on its course. The Man Angel attached an elevation of 3,000 feet, responded perfectly to attempts at maneuvering and sailed to its course. Neither ship returned according to conditions and this causes the judges to declare the race a draw. The Man Angel would have won the decision had it returned over the course, as its maneuver responses to the conditions of the race were otherwise complied with.

FELL DYING AT HIS FEET

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Irene Cohn, wife of Charles Cohn, a grocery proprietor, committed suicide yesterday at her home, 806 West Walnut street. She had been accused by her husband of wrong doing, which she admitted. He told her divorce was the only thing possible. Leaving the house he returned a short time later just in time to have his wife fall dying at his feet. She had taken carbolic acid. She left a note begging forgiveness. She was 26 years old.

BUTCHERS KICK

CLAIM THAT PEDDLARS SELL MEAT NOT WHOLE-SOME.

The Matter Will Be Laid Before the Municipal Authorities and Relief Asked.

The butchers of the city are protesting against the practice being carried on by other parties of peddling meat around over the streets of the city of Paducah. The butchers have gotten up a petition which they will present to the council at its session next Monday night, and which is as follows:

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 9, 1905. To the Honorable Mayor and General Council, City of Paducah, Kentucky.

Gentlemen:—We, the undersigned butchers of the city, request that you take some measure to stop the peddling of meat on the street. It interferes with us very materially, and we feel like that we are the largest license payers in the city, and that we should be protected; also the meat sold on the streets is not inspected by your meat inspector, and sometimes these people sell meat that has been killed by railroads or by trees falling on them, and the meat is not wholesome.

Please give us relief as soon as possible, and greatly oblige, Respectfully,

It will be seen by the petition that the butchers claim meat disposed of in this manner is not wholesome, neither has it been examined by the constituted inspector, therefore, sale of same is in direct violation of the law, if it is proven the inspection is not made.

Lots of poets would be flattered to death to get even a penny for their thoughts.

The whole world loves a lover, just as it sympathizes with all rainbow gold chasers.

THE MOUNT CASE

Continued Week in Circuit Court Yesterday

ACCUSED CLAIMED ABSENCE OF WITNESSES

The Grand Jury Returned Another Batch of Indictments Against Jail Prisoners.

SEVERAL CONVICTIONS DURING YESTERDAY

Willis Mount's case was yesterday in the circuit court continued until next Monday, at which time it will be taken up and some disposition made of same. It was set for trial yesterday, but when called the accused put in an affidavit asking for a postponement until the next term of court upon the ground that several of his witnesses could not be here right now. The court after looking over the affidavit continued the proceeding until next Monday, at which time he will decide whether a continuance shall be given, or whether a trial shall be entered into immediately. Between now and next Monday the accused is to try and get his witnesses here. The absent witnesses Mount enumerates in his affidavit are John Whittell, Jack Walker, Robert Curlin, Henry Sparks, R. J. Bagg, Harry Braden, Arthur Pryor, Will Bishop and Ed Cox.

As to Whittell the affidavit says it can be proven by him that he was the last one to leave the gambling room above The Stag the night of the killing, and that he was in there when the shooting occurred, but had his back turned to Mount and Nutty and did not see the firing.

As to Jack Walker, Mount contends in his sworn statement that Nutty, the victim, told Walker at the Klondike saloon early the night of the killing that he, Nutty, was looking for Mount and intended to kill him. Walker came and acquainted Mount with these facts, so claims the prisoner.

The affidavit claims that Robert Curlin will swear that Nutty remarked he was looking for Mount to kill him. This was several hours before the shooting.

Mount in his statement further asserts that Harry Braden will testify that he saw Nutty start to pull a gun in the gambling room that night to shoot Mount.

For these reasons the accused claimed he wanted the postponement until the next term of court. Mount also claims that Nutty told Will Bishop he was going to kill Mount, and that Bishop came to Mount, and told him of this fact.

Batch of Indictments.

The largest bundle of indictments handed in at one time by the grand jury since being empaneled was that of yesterday, when seven true bills were found.

Joe Lewis was indicted on the ground that he cut Hattie Prewitt, by knocking her in the head with a jug when they quarreled on Tenth between Washington street and Kentucky avenue. This case was set down for trial today.

Several weeks ago Will Fox, colored, shot John Cobbs, a half witted dandy, out about the Maxon Mill section of the county, as result of a falling out they had about a pair of gloves. The grand jury brought in an indictment charging Fox with malicious shooting, and the proceeding was set for trial on the 8th day, which is today.

Several weeks ago the establishment of August Denker was broken into and cigars, tobacco, whiskey and other things stolen. Percy Williams and William Morris were charged with the offense, and indictments to this effect brought in. The case went down for trial next Monday. They are charged with housebreaking.

For next Saturday was set for trial indictment brought in against James Taylor, who is charged with stealing the bicycle of William Smith and selling same to Lawrence Gieves.

One night last week Jesse Chambers Howard got into a difficulty over some money matters while out serenading and Chambers cut Howard. This resulted in an indictment charging malicious cutting, and the matter set down for trial today.

Walter Sullivan claims that Dennis Reed stole his bicycle and sold it to Henry Rondeau for $25. For this Reed was indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses, as he

STARTLING FACTS

Revealed by Life Insurance Men in Investigation.

NEW YORK COMMITTEE UNCOVERING NEW FACTS

How Officers of Various Big Companies Swell Their Incomes by Questionable Dealings.

ACTIONS DEFENDED WITH MUCH BOLDNESS

(New York Special.)

That the secrets of the insurance business as conducted by America's great companies—the inside workings, ways and policies that have heretofore been spoken of only within the four walls of the directors' meeting-rooms—will be revealed in full to the public was plain at the end of Thursday's session of the legislative life insurance investigating committee in this city.

Some remarkable frank acknowledgments by Frederick Cromwell, the treasurer of the Mutual Life, were one of the features of the day's testimony. Mr. Cromwell told how officers of his company added to their incomes by investing in securities and afterwards selling these bonds to the company.

The affair of the Equitable Life Assurance society and the Mutual Life Insurance company held the attention of the legislative investigating committee throughout the day. Nothing particularly new was developed in regard to the Equitable society other than the statement drawn from one of the officers that the society does not know the present whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, the former comptroller. It was stated that Mr. Jordan was wanted as a witness to explain the loan of $685,000 made to the Equitable society by the Mercantile Trust company. It was also stated that James H. Hyde, former first vice-president of the Equitable, later will be called as a witness before the committee.

Controls Trust Companies.
The inquiry into the Mutual Life Insurance company was begun. The testimony drawn from an officer of the company showed that the Mutual controls many trust companies, among them the Morton Trust company, the Guarantee Trust company, and the United States Mortgage and Trust company. On deposit with these companies the insurance company keeps hundreds of thousands of dollars against which it does not draw.

It was explained that the prosperity of the trust companies meant the prosperity of the insurance company. The insurance deposits draw 2 per cent interest and trust companies pay as high as 20 per cent dividends on the par value of the stock, or 5 per cent on the market value.

Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual Life, said the company had bought securities from syndicates; that officers of the company also bought securities from the syndicates and received individual profits, by selling these bonds to the company. He did not see that there any impropriety in the officers going into syndicates when the company had gone in first.

Mr. Cromwell was still on the stand when the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

Alexander Takes Stand.
William Alexander, secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance society, was the first witness examined. He is a brother of former President J. W. Alexander.

Mr. Alexander said the mutualization of the Equitable had been prevented by the suit brought by Francis E. Lord, a stockholder. He also testified to the salaries paid by the Equitable and to the fact that the first vice presidency, formerly held by James H. Hyde, is now vacant.

It was brought out that Mr. Hyde had bound himself with Mr. Ryan to return the $250,000 paid for the Equitable stock provided full delivery was not made at the expiration of the trust. Mr. Alexander was questioned as to whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, formerly comptroller of the Equitable. He said he did not know where Mr. Jordan was.

On the subject of former prices of Equitable stock, Mr. Alexander said the stock had sold at $1,000 a share fifteen years ago. Recently Marcus Hartley Dodge had told him he had purchased four shares at more than $3,000 each. The Hyde stock was sold to Mr. Ryan at approximately $5,000 a share.

Cromwell is Questioned.
Questions regarding the relation of the Mutual Life Insurance company to the Guarantee Trust company were asked of Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual. He said that every member of the finance committee of the Mutual, with the possible exception of Mr. Grannis, was a stockholder in this trust company.

Mr. Cromwell quoted a transaction in which the Mutual had purchased several millions of Cuban bonds, while the Guarantee Trust company had bought $1,000,000 worth. Asked why the Mutual did not purchase all the bonds itself, Mr. Cromwell replied that the insurance company did not wish to assume all the responsibility for possible losses.

Mr. Cromwell said in reply to questions that the Mutual, which owned nearly half of the trust company's stock, would have lost through any losses to the Guarantee Trust company.

"I do not understand," remarked Mr. Hughes, "what advantage trust companies are to the insurance companies."

Herbert H. White, secretary of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, gave the salaries of the Connecticut Mutual officers as: President, $12,500; acting vice-president, $1,200; secretary, $7,500; and treasurer, $5,000.

William H. Kingley, secretary-treasurer of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, said that his company does not permit voting by proxy.

Witness is Recalled.
Frederick Cromwell was recalled. He explained that in a syndicate in which the Mutual Life was concerned the insurance company got all of the profit. If any member of the finance committee went into it privately it was through some banking house and not through the Mutual.

The Mutual, he said, had 2,000 shares in the Morton Trust company and keeps a deposit there right along of $400,000 to $500,000, against which it does not draw. It has not been drawn against since 1899. Mr. Cromwell explained these large deposits by pointing out that on all the stock the Mutual Life held it had a profit of $22,000,000 and that its trust company stock formed a very large proportion of this. The deposits in the trust company helped largely to support the trust company and they considered they were justified in maintaining these deposits in order to assist the prosperity of these companies. He regarded the investments in trust companies as very profitable.

Light on Trust Companies.
"Would it be fair to assume that syndicate transactions are arranged for the benefit of the managers?" the witness was asked.

"Without any question," he replied.

"Now what good to you are trust companies? You are well known as holders of large money. You must have many applications for loans?"

"We don't hear of the loans we wish to invest in railroad companies and other large transactions."

The Japanese bond issue came up for special mention and Mr. Cromwell said he was in it as well as the Mutual and with a profit of $250,000. He often went into syndicates when the Mutual had gone in first.

"You don't think that after using your best judgment on investments for the Mutual Life in syndicate transactions there is any impropriety in your making money out of the same transactions?"

"No."

SPREES OF A CENTENARIAN.

Said They Were Good for His Constitution.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—Merritt Locust, who is dead in Scott county, near Georgetown, lived 105 years. He was married four times and was the father of thirty children, twenty-four of whom are living, the oldest being 86 years of age and the youngest 12.

Mr. Locust was a temperate drinker of good whisky, save that about three times a year he would put on the blue uniform he wore in the civil war and get drunk for a week or so. He said that such a spree was good for his constitution. He was an inveterate smoker.

COUNTY TAXES.

Sheriff Potter and Deputies Quite Busy Collecting Same.

The collection of county taxes is going ahead quite lively at the office of Sheriff Lee Potter on South Fourth street, where he and his deputies are kept busy each day receiving for the sums paid by the many property owners calling for that purpose. He has taken in many thousands of dollars, but the biggest rush will be the balance of this month as he intends advertising and placing on the delinquent list everybody who has not paid their taxes by the first of next month. This means that those getting on the delinquent list, will have to pay the penalty, else have their property sold and thereby have additional costs heaped upon them.

The last half of the city taxes, that are paid to City Treasurer Dorian, do not have to be paid until the last of this year. After that date the penalty goes on.

But They Don't.

It is a fair world—'twould be the other way. If men meant all the compliments they pay

And girls meant all the mean things that they say!

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Mrs. J. W. Lang and Mrs. S. Frake

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so-called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women, and thousands have been cured of serious kidney derangements by it. Derangements of the feminine organs quickly affect the kidneys, and when a woman has such symptoms as pain or weight in the loins, backache, bearing down pains, urine too frequent, scanty or high colored, producing scalding or burning, or deposits like white dust in it, or unusual thirst, swelling of hands and feet, swelling under the eyes or sharp pains in the back running down the inside of her groin, she may be sure her kidneys are affected and should lose no time in combating the disease with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the woman's remedy for woman's ills.

The following letters show how marvelously successful it is.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—A Woman's Remedy for Woman's ills.

FEARFUL WRECK
ELEVATED CAR DERAILED PLUNGES TO THE GROUND.
Nine Persons Killed and More Than Thirty Injured—Incident in New York.

New York, Sept. 11.—Nine persons were killed and more than thirty injured in the derailment of an elevated railroad train at Fifty-third street and Ninth avenue today.

The train was a south-bound Ninth avenue local, and should have continued on the straight track, instead of being switched to the curve, by which Sixth avenue trains proceeded on Fifty-third street from Ninth avenue to Sixth avenue. A sixth avenue train had just passed and the switch to the curve was open. Owing to this open switch the first car of the Ninth avenue train took the switch, just barely staying on the rails, and turned into Fifty-third street instead of going down Ninth avenue. The switchman, it is alleged, when he saw the blunder, turned the switch back again as if to send the train on the straight track down Ninth avenue. As soon as this was done the train was wrecked.

The first car got around the turn, but the second car, owing to the switch being changed, was thrown off the track.

It fell into the street, turning completely over and landing upside down. The fourth car and fifth car also left the rails, but did not fall to the street. The fourth car struck with terrific force against the building at the southwest corner of Ninth avenue and rested against the fire escapes.

Policeman Edward Morgan, who was injured, was standing beneath the structure when the accident happened. He leaped when he heard the crash overhead and escaped death.

"I turned around and saw the car coming to the street," he said. "It fell with a crash on its forward end. The people were jammed forward, holding to the straps and mixed up together."

"When the sides broke out they were scattered all over the street. These were the lucky ones. Those who could not get out were the worst injured."

"I saw there was awful work ahead, so I ran to Fifty-first street and turned in an alarm. Then I sent in a call for all the ambulances and asked for police reserves. As I ran back I called for help from wagons of all sorts. When I got back the street was strewn with injured people. We lifted them into grocery wagons, trucks, anything handy, and hurried them to Roosevelt hospital."

"When the firemen came they began dragging people out of the car. The further down they got into the mass of humanity the slower the work became and the more serious were the wounds of those rescued. Finally axes had to be used to get the people from under the wreckage. At that stage they began to pull out the dead. The excitement among those in the derailed cars on the structure, as they realized what had happened, became intense."

Motorman Paul Kelly, address unknown, and C. A. Jakinson, the switchman on duty at Fifty-third street and Ninth avenue, have disappeared, the police say, and cannot be found.

SHOE THIEF

A. B. SCHLITZBAUM GOT ONE YEAR IN THE PENITENTIARY.

Stole While Shipping Clerk of Shoe Factory—More Charges Yet Overhanging Him.

Marshal William McCullom, of Kuttawa, was in the city yesterday on business and while here said that A. B. Schlitzbaum had been given one year in the penitentiary upon the charge of stealing shoes from the factory in the branch penitentiary at Eddyville, while he was shipping clerk in that prison department during last year when he was serving time for embezzling money from the American Express company when agent for the concern at Fordsville, Ky. There are yet two other charges for theft of shoes from the prison, and Schlitzbaum will be tried for them as soon as he serves his term for the first conviction.

Schlitzbaum was agent for the express company at Fordsville when there came up the famous case where Boatner claimed $28,000 he expressed through the company was stolen. It proved an attempt to swindle the company, and Schlitzbaum, who was in with Boatner, got one year in the pen, while the other came clear.

While serving his time Schlitzbaum was made clerk of the shoe factory inside the prison walls, and during that period shipped out footwear to confederates outside the penitentiary, and in that manner stole hundreds of pairs. This was not discovered until after he finished his term. Marshal McCullom located him at Portland, Oregon, several weeks ago, brought him back, and now he gets one year for the first charge of shoe stealing, and as he shipped out the footwear three different times two more bills hang over his head for trial when there is finished by him the first term given. He is one of the smoothest articles in the country.

BADLY SCARED BY "GHOST"

Members of Fishing Party Made Victim of Joke.

Marion, O., Sept. 11.—Ex-Mayor Samuel Mehauffey played the role of ghost with several others while fishing in Michigan and Kirk Lucas, a member of the party, was the victim. His death nearly resulted from sheer fright.

For several nights the Marion men slept in an old mill, which was said to be haunted. There was nothing doing from the spirit world the first night and some of the members of the party decided to act in the capacity of ghosts.

Frank Huntsman was let into the joke and he and Lucas were left alone in the mill on the night of the planned ghost visit.

Lucas collapsed from fright, the services of a physician being necessary. He is still in a dangerous condition.

WATCH FOR LADY

HANDSOME PRIZE TO MOST POPULAR LADY OF CITY.

American Inn in Charge of Charity Club During the Carnival—Mr. Morris Here.

A feature of the coming carnival of the Traveling Men's club and one that will in all probability prove a decidedly interesting will be a voting contest for the most popular young lady in Paducah. The voting will begin Tuesday morning, the 12th, and close Wednesday evening, the 27th, at 10 p. m. at the carnival grounds. Ballot boxes will be located at the following places:

Stutz's, "The Columbia", B. Weille & Son, McPherson's drug store, Wallerstein Bros., Smith & Nagel's drug store, Thompson's drug store.

Votes will be one cent each. Envelopes will be furnished those desiring to vote. Place money in envelope and write on the envelope the amount corresponding with the number of votes cast and the name of the young lady for whom the votes are cast. The foregoing must be strictly adhered to, as votes will not be counted unless the name and amount has been written on the envelope. The young lady receiving the largest number of votes will receive a handsome gold watch. Presentation of watch to the winner will be made in the big Roman coliseum, Thursday evening, the 28th.

Vote early and often for the young lady of your choice. Bulletins will be posted showing the standing of the contestants.

Advertising Man Here.

Mr. Morris, the advertising manager for the Parker Carnival company, has arrived here to remain several weeks booming the coming festival that will be given the last of this month by the traveling men. He is one of the leading men in that line over the country, and promises not only good crowds for the entertainment, but attractions also that cannot be excelled.

AMERICAN VILLAGE.

The carnival people have arranged with the Charity club to take charge of the American Inn that will displace the German village usually conducted during carnivals. The club will be given fifty per cent of the proceeds, while the carnival promoters furnish everything. Lunches, soft drinks, etc., will be served there, and there run a place that can be visited by anyone without fear.

Contributions.

Contributions have already commenced coming in from the merchants for the American Inn and prospects are that it will be liberally donated to from all sides. Those donating were Great Pacific Tea and Coffee company, A. M. Leavison, Coca Cola company, Louis Clark, H. J. Heinz company and Milton Sanchez.

How to Rest.

To understand how to rest is of more importance than to know how to work. The latter can be learned if one will give one's mind to it, but the former is an art some people never acquire. Rest necessitates change of scene and activities. Lounging is very often tiring; sleeping is not always restful, and sitting down with nothing to do is simply to invoke weariness, says Woman's Life. A change is needed to bring into play a different set of faculties and to direct the thoughts into a new channel. The man or woman who is weary with care finds relief in active employment with freedom from responsibility. The brain worker generally finds the best rest in playing hard. It is quite a mistake always to expect to find it in idleness.

A Regular Customer.

(Judge.)
Mrs. Wiggs (looking at the hearse which is about to take her fifth to his last resting place)—But I didn't order all these expensive plumes.
Undertaker—No, mum. We throw those in on consideration of your being such a regular customer, Mrs. Wiggs.

COLLEGE BODY

MEETING BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON BY COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen in Charge Want to Close Everything Up Before Making Public That Site.

The Methodist college question for this city is gradually getting into shape, and yesterday Chairman Harry C. Rhodes, of the citizens committee, that has the project in hand, issued a call for the other members of his body to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the office of Charley Wheeler, on the top floor of the Fraternity building, for purpose of again hearing reports from the several sub-committees that are busy with the undertaking. This will be the first gathering of the committeemen for several weeks, they having been engaged during their spare moments in getting negotiations closed for the site that will be offered the people to locate here the big institution. The financial end of the proposition also has been cared for and is being judiciously and successfully pushed.

The committee does not want to state where their sites are and how things are negotiating until everything is closed. Their object in pursuing this course is to prevent any of the outside towns that are fighting for the college also from knowing just what is being done here.

He Made a Mistake.

"Prisoner at the bar," said his Honor, "you have been tried and convicted of the crime of burglary. Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed on you?"

"It was a mistake, your Honor."

"How do you mean?"

"Why, I figured it out that burglary would bring me in more money than being connected with a big life insurance company, and so I went into it. I've been at it a year and lost at least $20,000 as compared with the other. Please take this into consideration in sentencing me."—Washington Star.

A BIT OF CURRENT FICTION.

John Rich, the millionaire, put down his paddle with a grunt. His face wrinkled like that of a bawling babe. He rubbed his enormous stomach. "Can it be appendicitis?" he asked himself, timidly. "It's on that side."

Then he took up the paddle again, and made like mad for the Mountain Lake house.

II.
Young Doctor Hart and Helen Adair were seated in a hammock together, for they were befrothed. "If I only had a thousand dollars," the young doctor sighed. "We would marry tomorrow then."

"Patience, Henry," murmured Helen Adair.

"Patience!" he grumbled. "I've been practicing a year now, and my average earnings are but seven cents a day. But for mother, I would—"

Bzz—zz—zz. It was an automobile. From it leaped Gaston, the French chauffeur. He was very pale.

"Come at once, Doctor Hart," he said. "At the Mountain Lake house Monsieur Rich suffers acutely. Perhaps in his appendix."

Since Helen Adair had never ridden in an automobile before, she now begged leave to accompany her betrothed. Gaston acceded to this wish, and the three tore smoothly away in the great French car. Bzz—zz—zz.

III.
Young Doctor Hart bent over old John Rich.

"It is the appendix, sir," he said. "An acute case."

John Rich shuddered with horror. "Appendicitis?" he gasped.

"Yes, and nothing but an immediate operation can save you. I have an assistant with me. The cost of operating would be one thousand dollars. Do you consent?"

"I—well, you see—"

"In two hours you will be beyond human aid, sir."

"Oh, doctor! Then I consent."

Doctor Hart sought Helen Adair below.

"Dear, you must help me," he said. "You must etherize for me. I am going to operate on John Rich. Your work will not be difficult, will not be beyond you."

"I will be proud and glad to help you," said the devoted Helen.

IV.
On a table John Rich lay on his back. His stomach resembled a snow mountain. Helen Adair held a white cone, the ether cone, over his face. Doctor Hart, with needle and thread and knife, operated. Rich did not suffer. He was unconscious.

"Helen, we'll get a thousand dollars for this."

"Thank Heaven!"

The young surgeon whistled cheerfully over his work.

V.
Doctor and Mrs. Henry Hart were on their wedding journey. They sat in the drawing-room of a train. The Rockies were visible in the distance.

"Helen," said Doctor Hart, "old John Rich didn't really have appendicitis. He had only a stomach ache."

"Why, Henry! And you cut out the poor man's appendix!"

The young physician answered with a laugh. "Indeed I didn't. I simply made a little slit in his stomach—the slit that begins the appendicitis operation—and then I sewed him up again."

"But won't he ever know?"

"The only way he could ever know would be to have himself opened and cut nearly in half to see whether the appendix was still there or not."

"He won't do that, will he?"

"Scarcely."

"Henry, you villain!"

"But the thousand, Helen!"

She smiled. She repeated softly, "Yes, the thousand."—Estelle Klander.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The Register is authorized to announce HARRY S. ALLEN as a candidate for Coroner of McCracken county, subject to any action of the Democratic County Committee. Election November, 1905.

This is lovers' season, the season of the harvest moon. If the skies will only clear the populace generally as well as the lovers can appreciate the beautiful moonlight nights.

The Tartars and Kurds, who seem to be about as fiendish as the aborigines of Africa, continue to murder the Armenians and destroy their towns. The atrocities credited to these inhuman raiders are blood curdling almost beyond credence.

Chicago is threatened with another strike which becomes of more than local interest. Sunday four thousand freight handlers gave the railroads forty-eight hours in which to give them an increase of wages, the ultimatum being a strike if the demand is refused. The strike is regarded as probable, the railroads not being disposed to meet the demand.

The cables say that Norway and Sweden are nearer fighting now over their separation than ever before. Seemingly it will take the cool heads of the two countries to keep down a clash at arms which would be more damaging than beneficial, of course. The outlook is very discouraging to the peace element which had to work overtime recently to stop the war in the far East.

In spite of denials it seems to be settled that the I. C. R. R. is going into Nashville over the Tennessee Central road via Hopkinsville. The I. C. therefore is about to accomplish a desire of many years, and the people of the entire line have as much cause for congratulations as the management of the great system named. Every mile of road the I. C. adds to its system is mutually of good to the patrons of the road and the road itself.

There are some prospects of another war in the far East. China is preparing to make a demand on both Japan and Russia for damages to property and lives through the invasion of and fighting in Manchuria, and if either country makes a settlement at all it means war between China and the country which fails to pay the demands. This may be a premature prediction, but it is one which promises to prove prophetic.

The democratic committee of Tennessee has called a state primary to name a candidate for United States senator for next May and also a primary to name a governor for the same month, placing the two primaries fourteen days apart. The senatorial primary is a new departure in Tennessee and is discussed pro and con by the people of the state, the press in particular, but the party committee has spoken and the faithful will obey. These two canvasses have practically opened in the state and are already warming up and each promises to be red hot ere next May.

VERY CRITICAL

WAR BETWEEN NORWAY AND SWEDEN WAS NEVER NEARER.

Suspension of Negotiations Indicates Dead-LOCK on Question of Fortifications on Frontier.

Christiania, Sept. 11.—War between Norway and Sweden was never nearer since the beginning of the disunion movement than it is now. The situation is highly critical. The suspension of the negotiations at Karlstad denotes a deadlock on the question of frontier fortifications. Sweden demands not only that the fortifications actually on the frontier be destroyed, but that the old historic stronghold—Fort Kongsvinger, eighteen miles from the frontier, the key to the defense of Christiania on the east, be sacrificed.

During the negotiations Sweden has been incessantly mobilizing troops. Seventy thousand Swedish soldiers are being massed at strategic points along all the railways leading to the frontier. The whole Swedish fleet is assembled at Bohus, near Christiania Fjord. The Swedish jingo press urges that war be declared against Norway in spite of the rikstag's conditions of separation. Similar pressure is being brought to bear upon the government by military leaders of the war party.

The Norwegian cabinet has not broken off the conference with Sweden, and is debating the possibility of making concessions in the interest of peace. The Norwegian people, however, would consider the razing of old Fort Kongsvinger an intolerable humiliation.

SHAFTING HERE

HARDY BUGGY COMPANY NOW IN SHAPE TO START MONDAY.

Hawkins Brothers Opened Their Establishment Yesterday—No Word From Wheel Factory.

The line shafting for the Hardy Buggy company, arrived yesterday from New Jersey, and is now being unloaded for installation in the building at Ninth and Harrison streets. Everything has been all ready for business at the plant, pending arrival of the shafting which was delayed considerable during transit. It will be in position by the last of the week, and operations commenced next Monday.

President John Hardy of the company, went to Tennessee last night on business, and comes back in a day or two.

Confectionary Opening.

Messrs Hawkin brothers last evening had their opening for the establishment they have started on Broadway where the Warren and Warren jewelry store formerly stood beside The Palmer. A large crowd was there to attend the affair which started a first class house of its kind.

Good Business Man.

The Bradford (Pa.) Star has the following to state in a recent issue regarding the departure from that city of Mr. George Hollander, who comes to Paducah to be manager of the ladies tailoring establishment to be opened on Broadway between Third and Fourth street by Lee Levy:

"George Hollander, for the past two years manager of the S. Auerhain suit and cloak department, left this morning for Cleveland, where he has accepted a substantial position with H. Black & Co., the manufacturers of the famous Wooltex garments. Mr. Hollander leaves Bradford with regret, and it is with the same feeling that the many friends he made in this city bade him farewell. He learned to like Bradford without any effort, and Bradford reciprocated his regard. The Star joins his many other Bradford friends in wishing him prosperity. He is a keen young business man and should be successful in his new and improved position."

Telephone Company Sold.

The transfer of The People's Independent Telephone company was made yesterday, but it has to be approved by Judge Walter Evans, of the Federal court, who maintains headquarters at Louisville. The plant was bought in yesterday for $80,000 by the E. L. Barbour company, the largest independent telephone operators of America, who have organized The Paducah Home Telephone company, under which head the independent plant will hereafter be conducted. The transfer was made through the courts in order to legalize sale, as this had to be done before the outstanding bonds of the old company could be taken up. The plant is appraised at $118,000 and just as soon as Judge Evans approves of the sale, which he has to do, the new company will commence making extensive improvements to the system. Mr. Barbour is now in the city.

POLICE POWER

ASSISTANT SEAMON OF THE CHAINANG GRANTED AUTHORITY.

Joint Ordinance Committee Postponed Meeting Until Friday Night—Work on Storm Sewer.

The police and fire commissioners met last evening, but there was nothing before them so they adjourned in about five minutes after coming together. The only thing transpiring was to grant police powers to Henry Seamon, the assistant overseer of the city lockup chainang.

The joint ordinance committee of the city legislative boards intended to have a meeting last evening at the City Hall for the purpose of going over a number of ordinances that are presented for adoption by the full boards next week. Different things kept several of the members away last night, though, and those there adjourned the meeting over until next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

One ordinance is that renewing the franchise held by the Owen brothers for operation between this city, Brookport and the Illinois river, of their ferryboat Bettie Owen. Their present grant expires this month, and the ordinance for renewal of same was before the aldermen last week, but some flaws existed in same, and it was referred back for revision by the committee. There are several deferred measures to be put into presentable shape.

Board of Works.

Several questions of importance are to come up before the board of public works at their regular weekly session tomorrow afternoon.

Excavate on Other Side.

Yesterday morning the laborers began excavating on the north side of Kentucky avenue for the storm water sewers that are now going down along that thoroughfare. The sewerage on the opposite side of the thoroughfare has been completed, and the contractors expect to get the remaining side finished by sometime next week. When they are done, work will be commenced of laying the brick streets on the avenue up to Fourth, and while this is being done the storm sewers will be put in over on Jefferson street.

Move Lumber Piles.

Yesterday the Rex factory, in Mechanicsburg, moved from Woodward street the stacks of lumber they placed out on that public highway in violation of the law which prevents a concern from obstructing the public passageways.

The lumber had been piled so that people could hardly pass with safety on the street and the matter was laid before the city legislative officers, who ordered Street Inspector Alonzo Elliott to see that the highway was cleared of the obstruction. Acting accordingly the inspector instructed the company that began moving it yesterday.

BANKRUPT PETITION.

Wm. P. Lax, of Calloway County, Filed Petition Last Evening.

Last night William P. Lax, Calloway county, filed a petition in bankruptcy with Clerk John R. Puryear, of the United States court. He gives $725 liabilities, while the only assets available are his 82 acres of ground, store and stock of goods, which he values at $600, but claims exemptions on same.

Among his creditors are several Paducah firms, he owing C. H. Riecke & Sons $100, Covington Brothers & company $100, George O. Hart & Son $75, while small accounts were owing to George Goodman Liquor company, and A. M. Leavison.

ANNIVERSARY

THE Y. M. C. A. POSTPONED ONE WEEK THEIR CELEBRATION.

Directorate Takes Up This Evening Many Questions—Mr. Dix Goes to Louisville.

Postponement of the Young Men's Christian association anniversary has become necessary, and the management has set over until the 24th that event which was originally scheduled for the coming Sabbath. One main reason for postponing the date was in order to have the benefit of the proceeds from the coming entertainments, when there is being rendered on the anniversary statements of the financial condition of the organization. The matinee at The Kentucky will be given next Saturday afternoon by the children, while the evening of Monday, September 18, there will be presented by the ladies and gentlemen the cantata "David, The Shepherd Boy." Both these plays will be great successes, and the net proceeds will help swell the report to be made of the financial standing of the association on the anniversary.

Directorate Gathers.

This evening at 8 o'clock the board of directors of the association, will hold their meeting at the headquarters rooms to take up the many matters accumulating for disposal each month.

Debating Club.

Next month sometime there will be organized at the association, the debating club that will flourish again the coming winter months like they have during the past. This will practically be the only educational feature conducted at the rooms this winter, but this in itself is sufficient for that especial time, as is the medium of much entertainment and learning for the participants.

County Secretary Leaves.

Mr. P. C. Dix leaves today at noon for Louisville, after spending several days with General Secretary Blake Godfrey. Mr. Dix is the secretary for the county work done over the state and has organized many county associations the past year.

Take the General Appearance of a great Buck's Range. There never was one to compare with it. A Buck's is built so solidly and so splendidly that it presents a handsomer appearance in your kitchen than any other make of a range? This picture does not do a Buck's justice, but when you see it in our store you will agree with us. Remember, though, that the appearance is only one point. Any Buck's Range, Cook Stove or Heater—any cooking or heating apparatus that bears a Buck's trademark, presents a handsome appearance.

112-116 NORTH FOURTH STREET.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 11.—Tobacco growers from Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio are here to organize a Burley Tobacco Growers' company, which proposes to fight the tobacco trust for the control of the burley tobacco output this year and in the future.

Archibald Stewart, of Cincinnati, and W. B. Hawkins, of Lexington, Ky., are the leaders in financing the concern. They have sold to the growers themselves a sufficient amount of stock in the concern to insure its organization.

CONCRETE HOME

FIRST OF ITS CHARACTER
WILL BE ERECTED
HERE.

Dr. Phil Stewart Will Put Up Residence Constructed Entirely of That Material.

Dr. Phil Stewart, the well-known physician, is preparing to erect a residence the like of which does not exist in this section of the country. It is to be constructed entirely of concrete wherever possible.

The home will be put up next John Simmott residence, at Ninth and Monroe streets, and the physician expects to expend about $6,000 constructing same. The contract for drawing the plans and specifications has been awarded Architect O. D. Schmidt. The foundation for the building will be laid this fall, so as to let it settle during the winter, while next spring work on the building proper will be started.

The floors will be of concrete, ceiling of concrete, rafters if possible, while joists are sure to be. The porch is of like material as is also the pillars holding up the porch. The steps for the inside stairway will be of this hard material, but naturally the banisters will have to be wood. The roof will be of tiling.

Dr. Stewart went to Chicago several weeks ago to get his idea in regard to the structure, and examined closely a number of residences of this character and found they had proven more than satisfactory. The wall for the building will be hollow. This keeps cool air circulating around in the summer time, while during the cold months the place is practically airtight and easily kept warm. The structure will be heated by hot water altogether.

Even the mantle-pieces over the fire places are to be concrete, and in fact the architect will let no wood remain in the residence where concrete can be substituted.

This is the first house of this character ever erected in this portion of the state, or anywhere near as far as that is concerned. Some houses have been built of material with concrete poured into blocks resembling brick, but this is to be the plain concrete all the way through, with much fancy work as trimmings.

CORROBORATIVE

IS THE INSPECTING OF THE T. C. ROAD BY I. C. OFFICIALS.

Local Mentions of Various Incidents and Accidents of Interest to Railroad People.

General Manager I. G. Rawn, Assistant Chief Engineer H. R. Safford and Superintendent Harry McCourt, of Southern lines for the Illinois Central railroad, passed through here yesterday morning on a special train en route to Hopkinsville to inspect the terminal there of the Tennessee Central railroad, which reliable reports state has been leased by the Illinois Central railroad in order that the latter road will have a direct line through this city from St. Louis and Chicago to Nashville, the latter place being the terminus for the Tennessee Central in that direction. The inspection of these people, especially when they come right after J. T. Harahan and William Harahan visited Hopkinsville last week, is further corroboration of the lease of the T. C. by the I. C.

Grievance Committee.

Conductor J. K. Burkham left last night for Chicago to attend the grievance committee of the conductors that will be in session at that place for a week or two settling different questions coming before them. One delegate participated from every division of the road.

Sell Railroad Ground.

Mr. Charles Jennings returned yesterday morning from Chicago where he went and conferred with the Illinois Central high officials regarding platting off the commons behind the railroad hospital and selling same. At first it was thought they would lay the work over until next spring, on account of the cold weather, but the conference resulted in decision being reached to let contracts right away to run streets through the commons, lay concrete sidewalks and do as much as possible before the bad weather arrives. The street will be 80 feet wide, while 14 foot grass plots will exist between the concrete pavement at the side and graveled portion of the street. Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets are already opened, while Fifteenth street will be graveled from Jefferson to Clay streets.

Foot Taken Off.

Chief Surgeon D. G. Murrell yesterday amputated the right foot of Alonzo Utley, the white tramp who was stealing a ride aboard the freight train when there occurred last week the collision at Obion, Tenn. The limb had been badly fractured at the ankle and Utley was brought to the railroad hospital here, where the surgeons waited until the last moment before cutting off the foot in the hope that the member could be saved. Utley will be laid up at the institution for many weeks before he is able to depart.

Not Yet In.

The wrecking crew has not yet gotten the engines out of the ravine at the scene of the wreck and brought them here for repairs, as yesterday the master mechanic stated they were still being worked with and had not been brought in.

Resting Well.

Surgeon Murrell has about concluded that Engineer J. T. Armstrong is not injured internally, as a result of being hurt during the smash up. He continues resting very well at the railroad hospital, where are also the several others badly bruised by the collision. None have yet recovered to the extent that their discharge is permissible from the institution.

tution.

Hospital Improvements.
Chief Surgeon Murrell is of the opinion that all the bids will be in and opened within the next few days for the extensive improvements to be made at the railroad hospital, but cannot tell whether the contracts will be awarded or not, as the propositions from the contractors may be too high. If acceptable, the lowest bidder will be given the work and operations started off immediately.

Don't Want Competition.

Reports are that the I. C. is trying to buy the charter for the new railroad to be built from Mayfield to Ft. Jefferson, near Wickliffe, Ky., and that if the I. C. makes the deal the road will not be built. A. B. Neale and others of Mayfield are behind the new road and $40,000 has been subscribed for same. The I. C. does not want the new road built, and will buy the charter if possible, so as to keep the line from being laid and competition opened.

New Night Man.

Mr. H. L. Moore, of Portland, Oregon, has taken the place of night ticket agent and telegraph operator at the Union depot here, succeeding Ray Frather, who becomes day ticket agent, vice W. A. Mustaine, resigned.

Spent Sunday Here.

Chief Clerk Ben Herring, of the general agent's office at Memphis, Tenn., was in the city Sunday spending the day.

INVEST MONEY

G. D. PALMER ASKS FOR PERMISSION THROUGH THE COURT.

New Road Ordered Opened From Paducah and Woodville Road to Cairo Pike.

G. D. Palmer yesterday in the county court filed a friendly ex parte petition asking permission of Judge Lightfoot for the former to invest $2,057.50 he has belonging to his daughter, Gertrude Palmer, whose guardian the father is, and whose affairs have to be administered through the courts.

Appraisements of the estates of J. M. Finley and Brutus Starr were filed with the court.

The judge ordered that there be opened the new road wanted leading from the Paducah and Woodville road, on a line between W. Stanley and Vest Bell's places, to a place near the Catholic church on the Cairo road.

There was ordered recorded a settlement made by W. F. Bradshaw, guardian for Lawrence Drennan, and one made by Felix G. Rudolph, guardian for Edward Johnson.

To lay over until the next term of court was ordered the settlements made by J. C. Shelton, administrator for Claud Bazell, and that of G. D. Palmer, administrator for Adelle Palmer, and also guardian for Gertrude Palmer.

County Clerk's Office.

Mamie Powell has transferred to F. M. Milburn for $400, property on the west side of Fountain avenue. The deed was lodged for record with the county clerk.

A. A. Odle bought from E. W. Whittemore for $250, property on the north side of Jackson street.

Land out in the county was sold to Gus Ruoff by W. H. H. Hough for $2,000.

Julia Smedley transferred to Frank Levin for $2,100, property on Burnett street.

BIDS TOO HIGH

ELKS BUILDING COMPANY REJECTED ALL PROPOSITIONS.

Plans Will Be Cut So as to Bring Cost Within Sum They Want to Spend.

Yesterday morning the Elks Building company held a meeting at the office of Architect O. D. Schmidt, on the top floor of the Fraternity building, and opened the three bids put in by concerns, proposing the figures at which they would construct the new home the Elks will erect on North Fifth street beside the post-office. The members of the company rejected every bid because they were considered too high, that is, in excess of the money the company wants to put into the proposed structure. All the bids ranged close around $30,000, while the Elks do not want to spend more than $25,000, therefore the propositions had to be turned down, and Elks arrange for another meeting between themselves and architect to give the latter instructions as to altering the plans so as to eliminate some portions of the building provided for in the old drawings, and bring the cost so it will not exceed $25,000. As yet the building company has not decided when they will meet again with the architect, but this will be done in a very few days.

This rejection of all bids will have no tendency to delay the work, because the plans can be cut down and new bids made out before time for commencing the building, as the negro Banks has to tear down the old Terrell stable now occupying the ground, before the new home can be started. Terrell cannot get into his new stable until next week and then it will take Banks about ten days or two weeks to tear down the dilapidated structure now on the site.

TRUANCY LAW

CHILDREN BETWEEN ELEVEN AND FOURTEEN MUST ATTEND SCHOOL.

Penalty Provided for Parents or Guardians Who Fail in This Duty.

The attention of parents is called to the truancy law for cities of the first, second, third and fourth classes as passed by the last legislature.

The act provides that the parents in the cities of the class designated must see to it that their children between the ages of eleven and fourteen years attend either the public or some private school for a full term of six months. The only excuse which may be offered for the child not attending the common schools or the accredited private schools is that the child is either physically or mentally unfit to leave its home.

The measure further provides that the board of education must appoint one person for every three thousand people under their supervision whose duty it shall be to examine into all cases of truancy. Upon finding a truant the officer must notify the parent or guardian of the truant. Upon failure of the parent or guardian to have the child attend school a fine of not less than five nor more than ten dollars is assessed for the first offense and for every offense thereafter a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty shall be levied.

The officers are empowered to keep a record of all truant for the supervision of the trustees and the money secured from the fines goes to the school fund.

A FEW THOUGHTS ON LIVING.

It isn't the big things of life which break women down, it is the little pin-pricks of life, that is the little worries and disagreeables which seem almost to fill up her waking hours.

These bring wrinkled brows and gray hairs.

Unfortunately women will occupy themselves with small things of every kind, and think they are very hardy and unsympathetically treated if any one tries to teach them a broader philosophy.

They marry and then make mountains out of every little foible of their husbands.

Some of them think men are only larger and stronger editions of women—whereas, they are a totally different kind of animal.

If they are untidy and unpunctual scolding won't change them, though tact and affection may.

These are disagreeable and annoying habits, no doubt, but many men have much worse, so don't make a trouble of it and worry until you get thin and miserable just because your husband hasn't got nice little old-maidish ways.

When a man is neat he is ten times neater than any woman that ever was born, and will go around putting his wife's hairpins in place or discovering dust with his pocket-handkerchief. A most disagreeable state of affairs. Try and take broader views of everything.

Don't look at small things so seriously. Most of these little things are purely imaginary when you take them to pieces and sift them out.

Meeting trouble half-way is another womanly foible to be grappled with and conquered.

Some women spend their whole life crossing bridges before they come to them, trying to ascend mountains, which prove molehills, after all.

This habit of worrying over small things and anticipating troubles will ruin the sweetest nature if indulged in and make a beauty into a wrinkled, sour old woman long before her time.

No woman feels more miserable than one who is conscious of being dressed badly or unsuitably. And it takes some little time, forethought and brains to avoid this dilemma.

If women would take half as much time in putting a thing on as they do in choosing it, it would be time well expended.

But who does not know the woman well who has handsome things, but looks as if they had been put on her with a pitchfork.

A really well dressed woman is one who dresses according to her position and pocketbook.

Especially should the working woman bear this in mind. She should avoid all "fal lals," fads and "latest" styles, which only last a moment.

She should always have neat shoes and gloves, see that her neckwear is irreproachable and eschew baby ribbons and transparent shirtwaists if she works in an office.

Save all the pretty feminine things for evenings and holidays, and then be as "fluffy" as you like.

But for working hours rely more on suitability and plainness and absolute neatness of your attire. Wear blouse suits. The separate white waist is not economy.

Don't let your skirts sag at the back or "like" (who, manufactured that expression?) up in front.

Do see that your belt is in place and kept there by belt pins; also, that no safety pins are in evidence.

TOTS ROB BANK

DEED ALMOST CAUSES RUN WHEN FACT BECAME KNOWN.

Robbery Planned in Way Creditable to Older Heads—Was Most Daring.

Says a Youngstown, O., telegram: Two young boys, almost infants, aged 6 and 7 years, robbed the First National Bank of Niles Friday of $700, and got away with the money. They were captured after scattering money about the streets of the staid old village for some time, and when a crowd of boys had followed them to the river, where they finally took refuge. The robbery was well planned and the president of the bank, William Harbert, with Judge Thos. I. Gillmar, of Warren, sat within a dozen feet of them when they made the bold raid. The other employees of the bank were at dinner, and they had chosen a good occasion for their theft.

The robbers are Leonard Park, aged 7, and Clyde Lenny, aged 6. Leonard was the one who planned it. He forced Clyde to go up to the counter and get the bills. The news of the robbery set the town in an uproar, and within a short time there was almost a run on the bank.

The locality at the corner of Mill and Furnace streets, where the institution is located, was packed with people, and it required the assistance of policemen to clear it. The youngsters had planned their raid with shrewdness. One street there are two windows leading into the basement. One is grated and the other is not. The windows are not more than a foot and a half high, and through the ungrated one they entered. They then ascended the basement stairs to the first floor and turned the trick. One little fellow lisped that "The old fellow was in the next room." He had seen him through the glass partition.

"He didn't see us," said the elder of the two boys.

"I stood on the steps and Clyde he got the money. He put it in his pockets and they were too full. The bills dropped on the street. We got out the same way we got in. He said that he was dropping all his bills and gave me some of his."

A number of boys saw them come out of the window which faces on the business street of the little town, and followed them. They were distributing bills to all who came along. Ten-dollar bills were the same as advertising dodgers and the youngsters gave them out liberally. They were followed by the boys and were finally captured by Charles Harris and a newsboy known as "Bill Nye." The youngsters readily confessed and disgorged the money which they had in their pockets. It was not half of what they had taken, though, and it is said out of $700 which was missed from the bank that but only a part of it was recovered.

The bank officials absolutely refuse to talk on the situation. They, with the people of the city, are keeping a guarded silence. The bank is the leading one of the city, with a capitalization of $100,000 and a surplus of $40,000. The stockholders are the leading people of the town and are greatly chagrined at the ease with which the bank was robbed.

Don't Talk Too Much.

The best of us talk too much. "The essence of power is reserve," said a man who knew.

Many a reputation has been built on silence. Many a one is spoiled through rushing prematurely and volubly into speech.

It is safe, says the Philadelphia Bulletin, to be silent when your words would wound. "Faithful are the wounds of a friend," says the old proverb, but one wants to be mighty sure one's friends needs the wounding and that we are qualified to administer it.

Keep still when your words will discourage. It is infinitely better to be dumb forever than to make one's fellow-being less able to cope with life.

Keep still when your words will incite to anger or discomfort. An incredible amount of breath is used in the evil practice of trying to make our friends dislike their friends.

Never speak when what you have to say is merely for the purposes of exalting yourself.

Shut your lips with a key when you are inspired to babble incontinently of yourself—your ailments, accomplishments, relations, loves, hatreds, hopes and desires. It is only to the choice, rare friend that one may speak of these things without becoming a fool.

Saying "Something Nice."

(Marion, Kan., Record.)

The young ladies of the Thompson Dry Goods company invited us in the other afternoon to drink lemonade with them, prefacing the invitation with the remark that we must say something nice about them in the paper. And of course we could not do otherwise, for they are all, without a single exception, just as nice and sweet as they can be, and our only wonder is that they have been allowed to remain single so long—and some of them, oh, so long!

STORIES OF THE NOTABLES

Reginald De Koven, the well-known composer, was speaking with some scorn of a foreign musician whose productions were not always so original as they pretended to be. "I should like to use this fellow," said Mr. De Koven, "as a character in a comic opera. I would give him long hair, a velvet coat and a pocket fiddle, and in the second act I would have him kidnapped by brigands and hidden away in a remote cavern."

Mr. De Koven laughed at his odd fancy and went on:

"Here the brigand chief visits him. The chief says:

"From your costume am I to judge you to be a strolling musician?"

"Not at all," is the haughty answer. "I am a composer."

"What are your works?" the chief asks.

"The other enumerates his operas and the chief says:

"Sing me an aria from the 'Pink Stocking' in your best manner."

"The composer sings the aria and at its end the brigand chief, rising in great excitement, orders the shackles to be stricken from his limbs."

"So you steal?" he cries. "Then go in peace. I never exact tribute from a colleague."

January Jones, the Nevada miner, has only been in America a few years and our prohibition laws still excite his wonder.

"I have visited a good many of your prohibition states," he said the other day in Philadelphia, "and it seems to me that people drink there just the same as in London or Paris or Nevada. I don't believe prohibition laws can be enforced."

"Did you ever hear of the conjuror who gave a performance in a prohibition town? In the course of his entertainment the man needed a pint flask of whisky."

"A pint flask of whisky, please," he said, going up and down the aisle with inquiring looks to left and right. "Who will lend me a pint flask of whisky?"

"The audience was a large one, but there was no reply."

"What is this?" said the conjuror. "Surely in a prohibition town I don't need to ask twice for a pint flask of whisky?"

"Then after a moment of silence, a dignified man in black arose and said:

"Stranger, would a quart flask do as well?"

"Sure," said the conjuror.

"Thereupon, as one man, the audience rose, a quart flask of whisky extended in each and every right hand."

Eugene Cowles saved two women bathers from drowning last month in Lake Memphremagog. In making this rescue Cowles bruised his arm—it struck a rock as he dived in. Pointing to the bruise the other day the actor said:

"When I got that bruise I felt like a young Chicagoan named Littledale, who played with me in amateur theatricals in my early youth."

"Littledale, in one of our shows, had to leap into a river in order to escape from a wild beast."

"The stage was so arranged that the river was invisible. Littledale was to leap and disappear, striking a soft mattress in the wings, and at the same time a rock was to be dropped in a tub of water to create a splash."

"But, though the leap worked all right in rehearsal, on the night of the performance it went wrong. There was neither mattress nor tub there. When poor Littledale jumped he fell eight feet and landed on the oaken floor with a crash loud enough to wake the dead, and there was no splashing water to drown the crash, by Jove!"

"The audience, expecting to hear a splash, and hearing instead the thunderous impact of Littledale's bones on the oak, set up a titter. But the heroic Littledale, equal to the occasion, silenced them."

"Heavens!" he shouted from below, "the water's frozen."

"The punishers of dishonesty, the exposure of fraud, the reformers," said District Attorney Jerome at a dinner, "have an ungrateful task."

"A good old man was accosted in the suburbs by a robust chap of 35 or so, who said in a husky voice:

"Kin ye gimme a little help, partner? The price of a cup o' coffee and a roll? I'm paralyzed in both hands and can't work."

"Suspecting the fellow to be an impostor, the old gentleman said:

"I'm deaf; I don't hear you. Write what you have to say. Here is a pencil and an envelope."

"The beggar thought intently. He muttered to himself:

"Write with paralyzed hands! It ain't possible. But he's deaf and didn't hear me. I'll chuck a different bluff."

"So then he wrote with slow pains: 'Am destitute with six children starved at home for bread please help for the love of heaven.'"

"The old man read this note and smiled. Then his brow darkened and he cried in a loud voice:

"You villainous impostor! I thought you had paralysis and couldn't grasp anything."

"Didn't ye say ye was deaf?" he gasped.

"Yes, in order to find out if you

Pink milk, fresh from the cow, ornamented Dr. Leonard Pearson's desk.

"A rare hue for milk to have," said the physician, who is the head of the veterinary department of the University of Pennsylvania. "The color is caused by the presence of a pink microbe."

He held the glass to the light.

"This pink milk," he said, "tastes well and is as nourishing as the normal white sort. The cow that yielded it has just come in. Her disease is a rare one and we are going to study it carefully."

"Will you cure the cow of yielding pink milk?"

"I hope so."

"You are not sure?"

"We can be sure of nothing in this world. We can be sure of nothing—unless we adopt the methods of a certain eastern patent medicine concern."

"This concern guaranteed in its advertisements to refund your money if its remedy did not cure you."

"A cadaverous man visited its main office one day."

"You promise," he said to the manager, "to refund the money in case your medicine doesn't effect a cure, don't you?"

"We do; we certainly do," the manager replied.

"Well, I've been taking your remedy for four years now and I'm not cured yet," said the emaciated man.

"The manager beamed on him and laid an encouraging hand on his bony shoulder."

"Keep on, my dear sir," he said, "and if our remedy finally fails we will refund the entire sum expended to your executors on presentation of the proper proof."

A. J. Cassatt, the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, is an amateur farmer of great excellence.

Mr. Cassatt praised the other day the fine year that farmers generally had had. Then, with an annoyed laugh, he said:

"But I have a neighbor near Chesterbrook, an incorrigible pessimist, whom I can't get to acknowledge a good season ever."

"Meeting this old man on the road the other day, I stopped and said:

"We farmers have had a good year this time, Henry, eh?"

"Oh, nuthin' out of the ordinary," the old fellow grumbled.

"Henry, I said, 'you are always finding fault. This year, though, I don't believe you can give me a single good reason for complaint.'"

"Can't, can't I?" he snarled. "How about spoiled hay? There won't be nary a bit for the young calves."

A Sauer Kraut Mine.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Pholleppeville, in Algiers, is determined to keep up the reputation for always providing something new. Only a short time ago a winged tortoise was reported to have been discovered there; next came an account of a "carnivorous stone," whatever that may be. The next marvel is a mine of sauerkraut, discovered by workmen while digging. It was beneath a small hillock and was a compressed mass of vegetable matter, mostly cabbages, with the smell and taste of sauerkraut, but preserving the natural color. When the report left the workmen had laid bare twenty cubic yards and were still digging.

What is Christian Citizenship

A Prodigious Power That is Now Being Thrown Away.
Christianity and Its Failures Reviewed.

(Collier's Weekly.)

Is there such a thing as Christian citizenship? No, but it could be created.

If Christians would vote their duty to God at the polls, they would carry every election, and do it with ease. They would elect every clean candidate in the United States, and defeat every soiled one. Their prodigious power would be quickly realized and recognized, and afterward there would be no unclean candidates upon any ticket, and graft would cease. No church organization can be found in the country that would elect men of foul character to be its shepherds, its treasurer, and superintendent of the Sunday school. It would be revolted at the idea; it would consider such an election an insult to God. Yet every Christian congregation in the country elects foul men to public office, while quite aware that this is also an open insult to God, who can not approve and does not approve the placing of the libertines and the well being of his children in the hands of infamous men. It is the Christian congregations that are responsible for the filling of our public offices with criminals, for the reason that they could prevent it if they chose to do it. They could prevent it without organizing a league, without framing a platform, without making any speeches, or passing any resolution—in a word without concert of any kind. They could accomplish it by each individual resolving to vote for God at the polls—that is to say, vote for the candidate whom God would approve. Can a man imagine God being a Republican or a Democrat, and voting for a criminal or blackguard merely because their party loyalty required it? Then can we imagine that a man can improve upon God's attitude in this matter, and by the help of professional politicians invent a better policy? God has no politics but cleanliness and honesty, and it is good enough for men.

A man's second duty is to his family. There was a time when a clergyman's duty to his family required him to be his congregation's political slave and vote his congregation's ticket in order to safeguard the food and shelter of his wife and children. But that time has gone by. We have the secret ballot now, and a clergyman can vote for God. He can also plead with his congregation to do the like.

"Perhaps, we cannot be sure. The congregation would probably inquire whom he was going to vote for; and if he stood upon his manhood and answered that they had no Christian right (which is the same as saying no moral right, and, of course, no legal right) to ask the question, it is conceivable—not to say certain—that they would dismiss him, and be much offended at his proposing to be a man as well as a clergyman.

Still, there are clergymen who are so situated as to be able to make the experiment. It would be worth while to try it. If the Christians of America could be persuaded to vote God and a clean ticket, it would bring about a short revolution that would be incalculably beneficial. It would save the country—a country whose Christians have destroyed it and are destroying it.

The Christians of Connecticut sent Bulkeley to the senate. They sent to the legislature the men who elected him. These two crimes they could have prevented; they did not do it, and upon them rest the shame and responsibility. Only one clergyman remembered his Christian morals and his duty to God, and stood bravely by both. Mr. Smythe is probably an outcast now, but such a man as that can endure ostracism, and such a man as that is likely to possess the treasure of a family that can endure it with him, and be proud of it. Oh, kiss the hem of his garment!

Four years ago Greater New York had four tickets in the field; one clean and the other dirty, with a single exception. One half of the Christians voted for that foul ticket and against God and the Christian code of morals, putting loyalty to party above loyalty to God and an honorable citizenship, and they came within a fraction of electing it; whereas, if they stood by their professed morals they would have buried it ought of sight. Christianity was on trial then, and is on trial now. And nothing important is on trial except Christianity.

It was on trial in Philadelphia, and failed; in Pennsylvania, and failed; in Rhode Island and failed; in Connecticut, and failed; in New York, and failed; in Delaware and failed; in every town and county and state, and was recreant to its trust; it has effusively busied itself with the small matters of charity and benevolence; and has looked on indifferently while its country was sinking lower and lower in repute, and drifting still farther toward moral destruction. It is the one force that can save, and it sits with folded hands. In Greater New York it will presently have an opportunity to elect or defeat some straight, clean, honest man of the sterling Jerome stamp, and some of the Tammany kind. The Christian vote—and the Christian vote alone—will decide the contest. It, and it alone, is master of the situation, and lord of the result.

SELL CHARLESTON

DEPUTY MARSHAL SAUNDERS SELLS THE BOAT TOMORROW.

Referee Bagby Returned Sunday from Rushville, Ill.—Discharges Received for Bankrupts.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock Deputy U. S. Marshal George Saunders will offer for sale to the highest and best bidder the steamer Charleston, which is moored at the foot of Ohio street. The boat is owned by Captain J. B. Smith and Mr. Eaton, latter of Mt. Vernon, Ind., and libels to date against her amount to something like $1,450. Yesterday before Clerk John Puryear, of the federal court, were filed two more suits, one for $10 which Doc Roberts claims is due him for services as clerk aboard the craft, while the other is for $15 worth of supplies furnished by a concern. The sale is made on order of the United States court so the parties holding claims against the steamer can be paid their debts. The sale is made on terms of one-half cash and the remainder on three months time, with approved security.

Referee Returned.

Referee E. W. Bagby, of the United States bankruptcy court, returned Sunday from Rushville, Ill., where he was called by the illness of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Bagby, who is very aged and in a serious condition. He left her resting well, but may have to return there as the doctors have little hope for the lady.

Bankrupts Discharged.

Clerk John Puryear yesterday morning received from Judge Walter Evans, of the federal court at Louisville, discharges in bankruptcy for the following parties: James T. Nicholson, Symsonia, Thomas H. Mohundre, Mayfield, Charles W. Brown, Paducah, George L. Knowles, Paducah, Ed H. Wilson, Paducah. The following discharges were received in which the cases were not closed: William A. Young, Paducah, and Frank B. Smith, Mayfield road.

"He was anxious to know," the captain replied, "whether he could have his wife put in a straight-jacket to keep her from continually talking."

President E. W. Bagby, of the Carnegie library board of trustees, returned Sunday from Rushville, Ill., and yesterday said that he would call a meeting of the board just as soon as Miss Ruby Corbett, the assistant librarian, finished getting up the list of new books the body is to order from the supply houses for installation among the balance of the volumes already at the institution. There are something like 800 new books to be purchased, and the assistant librarian is now working upon the list and will have it in shape sometime this week or next. The board then gathers to go over the schedule and when it is approved the new ones will be ordered forwarded. It will take several weeks to get them here.

The board should have held its regular session last Tuesday evening, as that was the stated time for the monthly gathering, the first Tuesday, but as there is nothing of great urgency demanding an immediate assembly, the president will await completion of the book list.

When the meeting is called a new janitor will be employed to take the place of Mr. Gleason, who is too old and infirm to properly discharge the duties without injury to his health.

SCHOOL MONEY

CAPT. PATTERSON WILL GET UP THE ACCOUNT SHORTLY.

Trustees Contend Money Is Due Them and if Necessary Will Sue for It.

Work of getting up the account of back city taxes and police court fines and forfeitures due the school board of here from the municipality, will be started just as soon as Captain W. H. Patterson, the former city clerk, gets off the petit jury in the circuit court, where he is serving and has to remain until the last of next week. He has agreed to get up the account for the school trustees who will present same to the city legislative authorities, and then if the latter refuse to pay amount suit will be brought for collection.

The school board each year gets so much out of total tax collected by the city, for maintenance of the educational department of the municipality. The trustees claim they are entitled to their percentage of the back taxes, which are those taxes that the property owners do not pay until long after due, and on which they have to pay a penalty when the collections are finally made. The legislative officers of the city contend that the schools are not entitled to any of these back taxes, therefore no allowances have ever been made out of same for the scholastic institutions of the city.

The school board is determined in their contention, and had Chairman Morrison, of the appointed committee, to confer with Hendrick, Miller & Marble, the attorneys, and get their opinion of the circumstances. The lawyers state the sum can be collected by the school board from the city. Now the school trustees have instructed Mr. Morrison to employ former City Clerk Patterson, who is familiar with all the records, to get up a statement for five years back, by going over the books, and see what portion of the taxes the police court fines and forfeitures the schools are entitled to. Mr. Patterson thinks he can get the figures up in a week or ten days and will start on the work immediately upon being relieved from service on the petit jury. If the account is rejected on being presented the legislative authorities, suit for collection will be instituted.

THE CHARGE FOR WHICH WILL GRAY WAS AR-RESTED.

Bony Jones, Colored, Held to Grand Jury For Stealing Cap From Wallersteins.

Another alleged Sabbath violation has come up, and this time Will Gray, the South Fourth street saloon-ist is charged with having kept his grogshop open last Sunday. Yesterday morning he was arraigned before Judge Sanders in the police court and given a continuance until next Saturday. It is claimed he sold a lot of whiskey and beer to a man from Woodville named Owen. The latter took it behind the law offices on Legal Row, and there he and a party of friends partook of the beverage.

Until next Saturday was continued the matter charging Sam Gold, colored, with stealing coal from the city's electric light plant where he was employed.

Bony Jones, the negro who stole the cap at Wallerstein's, was held to the grand jury, in pleading guilty to the charge.

A fine of $5 was given Ernest Osborne for a breach of the peace.

There was dismissed the breach of the peace warrant against George Hardeson.

Sardis Hart and John Givens were given a continuance until tomorrow of the breach of the peace charge against him.

Frauzer Keizer was fined $10 for using profane language, while Dan Campbell was fined $5 for a similar offense.

MAYFIELD WON

TOOK THREE GAMES FROM NASHVILLE BASE BALL CLUB.

L. A. L. Team of This City Ignominiously Defeated at Mound City Sunday.

At Mayfield Sunday the last of the series of three games were played between the team of that place and the club sent out over the country by the Nashville (Tenn.) American, a newspaper published in the city bearing that name. Mayfield won all three games, the score Sunday being 5 to 4 in favor of the boys of Graves county's capital. Eddie Taylor, formerly of the Paducah K. I. T. team, caught for the Mayfield lads, while South did some pitching. The latter came back here Sunday night, and yesterday morning went on to Frankfort where he resides.

Our Boys Lost.

Mound City, with Eckstone, the ex-Cairo twirler in the box, won easily from the L. A. L. at that place Sunday afternoon, by the score of 11 to 1. Eckstone struck out fourteen of the L. A. L. batters and apparently had them hypnotized in the field, as there was twelve glaring misplays chalked up against them when the game was finished. Dicke though sick, went in the box for the L. A. L. and was compelled to retire in the fifth, in favor of Will Block, who found a little better at the hands of Mound City.

The largest crowd of the season was in attendance, and were very well pleased at the result, although a one-sided game. The Mound City management placed great stress on result of the game, in fact, so much so, that they presented Eckstone with a gold watch after winning the game.

The L. A. L. will play an out-of-town team at the park next Sunday.

Paducahans Won.

Sunday afternoon at Wallace park the 1905 club of this city won from the LaCenter team by a score of 5 to 2. It was an excellent exhibition of amateur ball and enjoyed by a large crowd.

Browning Dead.

Dispatches from Louisville yesterday stated as follows regarding Pete Browning, one of the best known ball players of the world:

"Louis Rogers Browning, better known to the baseball world as 'Pete' Browning, died yesterday at the City Hospital, death resulting from an abscess which formed in his head. Browning was 45 years of age and a contemporary of Comiskey, Dan Brouthers, Tom Ramsey and others. For several years he held all professional ball players as a batter, and his eccentricities made him famous wherever baseball was played. Some months ago Browning was declared insane and removed to an asylum, but the physicians at the institution found that his apparent dementia was the result of the abscess pressing on his brain, and he was released."
